

SECRECY WILL MARK DECISION

Fifty-One Members Of The Legislature Gather
To Discuss Senatorship.

DECISION KEPT PROFOUND SECRET

Van Hise Answers The Critics In The Legislature By Replying To Their Attack Upon The Requirements.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., March 28.—The attempt to eliminate Governor Davidson as a senatorial possibility has utterly failed. Fifty-one members of the legislature met in the assembly judiciary committee room last night in secret caucus or conference on the matter of electing a United States senator to succeed John C. Spooner. It was the sense of the meeting that whoever be elected he be a man who would assuredly uphold the hands of Senator R. M. La Follette, and no "stalwart" need apply for the place. To some who attended the caucus this appeared to be an unimportant determination as there are no candidates announced or possible, who are known as "stalwarts" and in fact there is no one to dispute the current statement that there are no "stalwarts" left in Wisconsin. Consequently it may not be surprising that members should come out of the carefully guarded session of nearly three hours and declare that nothing was done.

While there were 51 members of the legislature present at the caucus, many of them are thoroughly independent and could not be bound by any action taken. The meeting was called by friends of the five present candidates—Stephenson, Lenroot, Hatten, Esch and Cooper—acting in conjunction, and although some pronounced Davidson men were absent there were other pronounced Davidson men present, some of them without invitation, but who just followed the crowd the evening. Speaker E. B. Ekers, president of the assembly, La Follette, acting as secretary. A motion was made to request the chairman of the republican state central committee to call a caucus of the party at a convenient time with reference to the date fixed yesterday for the first ballot, April 16, but opposition to this motion developed, and it was announced that Chairman Connor had already signified his determination to call the caucus customary in such cases, and the motion was not adopted.

The determination to name a senator who should work in harmony with Senator La Follette was not expressed in such language, as to exclude any man of past opposition to the La Follette movement, nor was language used to exclude any candidate who should be favored with "stalwart" support. But it was the sense of the meeting that some one should be selected who had been known to be sincere in advocacy of the reforms for which the La Follette people have worked in this state. It was agreed at the caucus that the senatorial election ought not to be allowed to interfere with the work of framing, perfecting and enacting measures under consideration should be pushed with all expedition possible.

The meeting was exceedingly secret. Sergeant-at-Arms Irvine stood guard at the door with an assistant, and any who peeped through the door without being authorized to be present were made aware that they were not wanted. Even Assemblyman Grassie was forcibly kept out, even though he repeatedly demanded admittance. He is a newspaper correspondent as well as an assemblyman, and this may be the reason why he was refused a chair in the meeting. While the meeting was designated as "secret," it appears that all the elements in the senatorial contest were perfectly satisfied with the result and no faction was able to gain any advantage.

In Busy Session

President Van Hise has answered the university critics by writing as follows:

That provision for more liberal entrance requirements was submitted to the state university faculty by a committee of that body which had been considering the matter for three months, on Feb. 11, four days before the introduction of the Bancroft resolution, recently discussed in the assembly, was the interesting fact brought before the joint committee on education of the legislature yesterday. It was shown that the report of this committee submitted on Feb. 11 provided for the entrance to the university without any foreign language, gives credit for a certain amount of manual training and commercial studies, abandons the group system of requirements, and thus gives greater elasticity, so that the

A few days later, as he stepped from the train at Banks, Mr. Clifton was shot down in cold blood without warning. With his last breath he accused the negro Jenkins of the crime. MRS. M'KENNEY WAS TERRIBLY BURNED
Blaze Was Communicated to Her
Dress from Bonfire in Yard Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. Anna McKenney, who was severely burned and narrowly escaped alive from a shocking misadventure which overtook her in the yard of her home, 508 Ruger avenue, at half-past four o'clock yesterday afternoon, passed a very comfortable night and is reported to be getting along nicely today. She will be confined to her bed for some weeks and is to be in the care of a trained nurse after this noon.

The circumstances of the accident were as follows: A pile of dried leaves and grass had been set afire in the yard and Mrs. McKenney, standing but a little distance away, failed to notice that the blaze had gotten back of her until the flames were suddenly communicated to her skirts. She cried out for help and acting on her first impulse started to run for the house. This movement only fanned the fire into flames which quickly enveloped the entire lower portion of her body. She stopped her flight and throwing herself on the ground attempted to smother the fire by rolling over and over.

At this juncture John Shawhan, Thomas Akin, and another young man who had heard her cries and perceived the plight she was in, came running from across the street with a horse-blanket, which they quickly wrapped about her. Inside the home, Miss Harriet McKenney, the daughter, was busied with a sewing machine and the loud hum of the mechanism had so completely drowned out all other sounds that her first inkling of what had occurred came as the neighbors bore her mother into the house and sent a telephone call for Dr. Fred Sutherland.

It was found upon examination that the back and limbs were badly seared and that the right arm and hand had been scorched in an attempt to tear off the burning garments. The face and chest, however, had escaped serious injury, though the eyebrows had been singed by the intense heat. Bandages saturated with oil were applied and it is believed that permanent and complete recovery of the face and limbs is the prompt assistance of the neighbors, is only a matter of time.

LOCAL MINERS FEAR
GAME OF FREEZE-OUT

Movements of the Head Promoters of 'Iron Mine' Near Baraboo Declared to Be 'on the Queer.'

W. W. Stackhouse, sometime sheriff of Sauk county, came here yesterday to confer with local stockholders in a mining project near Baraboo. It has been suspected for some time that the head promoters have not been dealing fairly with the small investors and it was in the interests of a coterie of the latter residing in the vicinity of the enterprise that Mr. Stackhouse came. The lease is soon to expire and notice has been served that the company is to withdraw from the field, yet there have been repeated assessments with no corresponding evidence of expenditure of the funds thus collected. William Pennig left for Baraboo today, and will act for the local stockholders, including George Akins, H. C. Hemmings, Harry Nowlan, B. B. Baker, Joseph Scholler, and others. At the meeting to be held tomorrow, the small stockholders are in an ugly frame of mind and if it is demonstrated that misappropriation of funds and similar crooked work has been in progress, they are determined to leave no stone unturned to bring the malfeasors to justice.

Col. George Hall of Evansville was in the city yesterday.

'SILENT' SMITH IS DEAD

AMERICAN MILLIONAIRE PASSES AWAY IN KIOTO, JAPAN.

Was on Wedding Tour with Bride, Formerly Mrs. Stewart—Inherited Wealth from Uncle.

New York, March 28.—A dispatch received here Wednesday from Tokyo, Japan, announces the death of James Henry Smith, one of the wealthiest capitalists of this city. At the time of his death Mr. Smith was on a wedding tour around the world with his bride, who was the divorced wife of William Rhinelander Stewart. They were married in this city on Sept. 13 of last year.

Mr. Smith's death occurred Tuesday at Kioto, Japan. Heart disease is said to have been the cause. A dispatch received here Monday said that Mr. Smith was dangerously ill. In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Smith were the duke and duchess of Manchester.

James Henry Smith, known as the "silent man of Wall street," inherited some years ago an estate valued at upward of $50,000,000 from his uncle, George Smith, a pioneer banker of Chicago. After the death of William C. Whitney, Mr. Smith purchased the Whitney residence in Fifth avenue and entertained there on a lavish scale. Mrs. Stewart obtained a divorce last year and at the time her decree was granted it was reported that she intended to become the wife of Mr. Smith. She is much interested in society, as was Mr. Smith. Indeed, Mr. Stewart's indifference to social affairs was said to be one of the reasons for the estrangement of the couple. Mrs. Stewart was a Miss Armstrong, of Baltimore, and is a sister of Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, of Philadelphia.

HISTORY OF "THE CLANSMAN"
Reconstruction Play That Has Swept Both South and North.
The enterprise of the Myers theatre in securing "The Clansman" for Saturday, March 30, matinee and evening, is to be commended. Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s play of the reconstruction era and the Ku Klux Klan is undoubtedly the most important and sensational dramatic offering of this generation. After its whirlwind re-

SCENE FROM THE GREAT RECONSTRUCTION DRAMA, "THE CLANSMAN," AT THEATRE TOMORROW

ord both south and north there will be keen anxiety to see it here. "The Clansman" is, briefly, the story of how the descendants of the historic Scottish clans, settled in the foothills of South Carolina, rose up in the year 1867 and threw off the negro and carpet-bagger yoke. Their organization in effecting this result was the celebrated Ku Klux Klan. Mr. Dixon paved the way for the present production of the play by the publication of his novels of "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman." His play, founded on both novels, was dramatized a year ago last spring and produced at Norfolk, Va., Sept. 22, 1906, following which it began a hurricane tour of the south in which it was received with the wildest acclaim everywhere. "The north must see it, the north must see it," was loudly asserted by southern newspapers and statesmen. And meantime northern croakers howled: "The north won't stand for it. The north will boycott it!" Manager George H. Brennan accepted the suggestion and took up the challenge by securing time for the play in New York city, and the first important production in the north was made there early in January. The New York city run proved successful beyond the fondest hopes of the management. Capacity audiences and great enthusiasm marked the long engagement, which was broken off to fill important dates in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. In each of these towns the New York experience was repeated. Immense audiences welcomed the play as gospel. In June "The Clansman" started an all-summer engagement at McVicker's theatre, Chicago. During the season of 1905-1906 it was played more than five hundred times and witnessed by 1,500,000 people. The play tells a story of love and hate in the crisis of the reconstruction period in the little town of Piedmont, S. C. Its hero is a young southerner, Ben Cameron, who is deeply enamored of the daughter of a white radical leader, but who refuses to give up his southern principles even to win her. In order to make head against the negroes and carpet-baggers Cameron organizes the local chapter of the Ku Klux Klan. He hunts down the black murderer of his little sister, terrorizes the bad negroes, and checks the designs of the mulatto lieutenant-governor who presumes to aspire to the hand of the abolitionist's daughter. Among the striking scenes of the play are the auction of the old Cameron homestead for unpaid taxes; the ghostly cave of the Ku Klux in which a black criminal is forced to confess his guilt before the assembled Clansmen; and the final scene in the home of the

"Same Old Story"

A patient recently consulted Dr. Richards about needed family work. Had been paying $10 each for gold crowns and was tired of the burden. Said had been doing so for social acquaintanceship, and friendship sake, but couldn't see the use any more of paying twice as much for work as was necessary.

This is the way people look at it. When they think.

And the time most people think is when the bill is presented for payment.

You may have the very best dental work obtainable in the city for $5 a tooth and you may pay $10 for the very same if you go blindly along. It's all in.

NEW RAILWAY YARDS TO BE BUILT THIS SUMMER

INTERVIEW WITH W. A. GARDNER, VICE PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN.

COMPANY WILL EXPEND HALF MILLION DOLLARS

No Plans Have Yet Been Adopted, but Drawings, That Will Probably Be Accepted, Are Now Being Completed.

W. A. Gardner, vice president and head of the operating department of the Chicago & North-Western road, stated today that the construction of the proposed yarding yards south-east of Janesville would be started this year and practically completed within the following twelve months. One half million dollars will be spent for a double-track bridge to replace the present one over Rock river in Monterey. Mr. Gardner further said that the double track to Harvard would probably not be built until 1908 or later.

Gardner Here on "Special" This important and interesting information was given out this noon. Mr. Gardner and Lloyd W. Bowers, the company's general legal counsel, were en route to Madison, where they appeared before a committee of the state legislature this afternoon. They presented the railway companies' arguments in a hearing on a proposed regulation bill. There was a misunderstanding regarding the date of this committee meeting and in order that the railway interests not be neglected Mr. Gardner and Mr. Bowers were rushed to the Wisconsin capitol on a special train, consisting of locomotive 72, a baggage car and an ordinary passenger coach. No special made between Chicago and Janesville and the ninety-one miles were covered in one hour fifty-eight minutes and a few seconds. The road had been cleared for the special, but the trip to Madison was a trifle less speedy, the train being ordered to follow the regular passenger into the capital.

F. R. Pechin, superintendent of the Wisconsin division, accompanied the two officials as far as Janesville and spent the afternoon here. He stated that his visit had nothing to do with the new yard proposition.

Interview Willingly Granted Though the special stopped here but a few minutes, just long enough to get orders, Mr. Gardner willingly granted an interview that is important and interesting to every citizen of Janesville. He said:

"We will begin building yarding yards, roundhouse and shops here this year. It is certain that about five hundred thousand dollars will be invested in the improvement. Plans Not Made "Several sets of plans have been made, but as yet none have been adopted. Civil engineers are now at work on drawings that will probably be accepted. These will be completed in time to begin actual construction when spring is really here. Tracks cannot be properly laid or large buildings erected until the frost is entirely out of the ground and the soil is no longer soft from spring rains. However, Janesville people may rest assured that the greater part of the work will be rushed and the date of completion is not distant.

Forty Engine Stalls "The roundhouse will contain between thirty-six and forty engine stalls. A larger building is considered impractical and well nigh impossible. The size of the stalls will be governed by the number of stalls. Though only repair work will be done here a large number of machinists, helpers, blacksmiths, carpenters, welders and roundhouse employees will be needed for there will always be a large number of locomotives in the house.

Use All the Land "Nearly every acre in the tract of three hundred will be covered with sidetracks and a great portion of the freight yarding work that is now being done at Fortieth street, Chicago, will be done here. The company's business has outgrown the Fortieth street accommodations. The new yards mean the proper handling of the freight business.

Two-Track Bridge "In view of the amount the yards, house and shops will cost we do not feel that we can indulge in a three-track bridge at the south end of the present yards. The extreme height of the bridge over the river and its length would necessitate the expenditure of an almost fabulous sum. We are planning a double-track bridge, which will cost about two hundred and fifty thousand. With the proper block signal equipment and reliable operators a two-track bridge will be amply large.

Stop Was Short The time that the train stopped in the city was not sufficient to secure all details, but railway men believe that the new yards will mean fully three hundred additional employees in the Bower City. The larger number of these will be men with families.

Not This Year As the train started out the city Mr. Gardner was asked if the projected double track to Harvard would be laid this year. He replied that this work would probably not be done during 1907. The cost will be large, for every bridge and culvert must be rebuilt, every cut widened and all embankments doubled. The double-tracking between Janesville and Evansville will be easy all culverts having been built for double tracks.

PRESIDENT ASKED TO DECLARE POLICY

INVITED TO ADDRESS BUSINESS MEN AT SPRINGFIELD.

TALKS WITH ILLINOISANS

Manufacturers' Association Committee
Sets Forth the Danger of the Present Railroad Financial Situation.

Washington, March 28.—A committee representing the Illinois Manufacturers' association, composed of C. H. Smith of Aurora, president of the organization; Levy Mayer of Chicago, general counsel; John E. Wilder of Chicago; W. B. Brinton of Dixon, Ill.; Charles A. Plamondon of Chicago, and John M. Glenn, secretary of the association, called on the president Wednesday, by appointment, and extended to him an urgent invitation to address at Springfield, Ill., at the earliest possible date, a convention of representatives of the manufacturing and mercantile interests of Illinois and the middle-west.

The conference lasted over an hour, during which there was a free discussion of the railroad situation.

Tell Him of Situation.

At its conclusion the committee gave out the following statement:

"The committee submitted to the president that the present railroad financial situation was creating a feeling of timidity and apprehension to such an extent that it threatened an immediate curtailment of banking and business credit, which had heretofore been extended to the business interests of the country at a time when the greatest possible demand for the further extension of credit prevailed for the development of the increasing demands of the manufacturing and mercantile interests of the country."

It was shown to the president that the manufacturers, in the enjoyment of their unprecedented credit, had largely extended their business in the making of purchases necessary to fill orders which require many months for their completion; that the manufacturing interests were apprehensive that a feeling of distrust was getting a foothold which would lead to financial curtailment, and such restriction of credit as to threaten dangerous results to the great prosperity that now existed in all avenues of industry."

Should Announce His Policy.

"It was urged upon the president that very great good would come to all interests alike if he would signify his willingness to express, in a public address, as soon as possible, the keynote of his creative and constructive policy. The president was informed by the committee that, though the country's prosperity was very great, it would soon become seriously impaired by the creation of an uneasiness on the part of banks and investors and would lead to such distrust as to prevent the supply of the necessary money to satisfy existing wants, as well as to meet the unparalleled development of the manufacturing and transportation interests of the country."

The president inquired carefully into the prevailing mercantile conditions and expressed himself as most anxious and determined to do all in his power to protect, preserve and encourage all legitimate business interests of every kind."

At the close of the conference, the president thanked the committee for its frank statement of the existing conditions as they appeared to the committee, and promised that within a few days he would determine whether his present engagements would permit him to accept the committee's invitation, which he expressed himself as anxious to do if he possibly could.

Marvin Hightitt, president of the Chicago & North-Western railroad, arrived in Washington Wednesday night and will call at the White House Thursday to discuss the railroad situation with President Roosevelt.

Planning Federal Regulation.

An important conference was held at the White House Wednesday night at which the railroad situation generally was discussed. Present were Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, Secretary of the Interior Garfield, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Chairman Knapp and Special Counsel F. B. Kellogg, of the interstate commerce commission and all the members of that commission except Messrs. Prouty and Cockrell, who are out of the city. The conference lasted two and a half hours.

After the conference adjourned it was stated that the meeting was called to outline a scheme to be presented to the next congress for the federal regulation of the railroads of the United States.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN ALABAMA.

Man Kills Accuser in Montgomery and Commits Suicide.

Montgomery, Ala., March 28.—William West, an engineer on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, shot and killed Engineer Fraser last Wednesday afternoon and, finding escape impossible, turned his pistol on himself, dying a few moments later.

West was accused of stealing a diamond ring from Fraser and the trial was set for Wednesday afternoon in police court. The tragedy occurred on the most crowded retail thoroughfare in the presence of a large number of Easter shoppers.

REVOLT ON KING'S ESTATE

TROOPS SENT TO THE ROYAL DOMAINS IN ROUMANIA.

Many Peasants Killed in Conflicts
Near Braila and Rapulcesca—Insurgents Burn Victims.

Vienna, March 28.—Press dispatches received here from Czernowitz, on the Moldavian frontier, say that conditions in certain parts of Roumania are still most serious. Grave disorders are reported to have broken out on the estates of King Charles at Polana, and troops have been sent to the royal domains.

It is rumored that large numbers of peasant rioters have been killed in conflicts near Braila and Rapulcesca, and it appears that a large number of rioters, on trying to enter the town of Galatz, were repulsed by soldiers near the village of Losaveni with a loss of 20 men killed; then the peasants turned their attention to Braila.

Information reaching here at a late hour Wednesday night indicates that peace is being slowly restored, particularly in the northern part of Moldavia. It is feared, however, that one result of the disturbances will be the neglect of tillage and consequent dearth of wheat next winter, with diminishing exports that will mean a financial calamity to Roumania.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 28.—Forty peasants were killed in a hard fight with troops in the Moza district. The insurgents in that section cut to pieces and burned some of their victims.

The measures proposed by the government to meet the demands of the revolted peasantry and end the civil war which is devastating Moldavia and Wallachia were announced in Wednesday's issue of the official Gazette in the shape of a proclamation issued in the name of King Charles.

HUGE RAIL STRIKE IS NEAR.

Managers to Appeal to Erdmann Law—Men Obdurate.

Chicago, March 28.—Railroad managers and labor representatives have reached the parting of the ways and the greatest strike in the railroad history of the country now appears inevitable.

Hope of a peaceful solution of the controversy was dispelled Wednesday. Neither side would recede from the position it had assumed earlier in the negotiations.

When the strike order, which will call out 50,000 men and paralyze traffic on 40 railroad systems in the west, shall be issued probably will be determined at a meeting of the delegates in the Sherman house Thursday.

The general managers held a meeting Wednesday night and notified the labor chiefs that they would demand arbitration under the Erdmann act.

The Erdmann law provides that, on the request of either side the interstate commerce commission shall use its good offices to avert a strike. The men will not accept any arbitration by outside parties, they say.

TRIED TO BLOW UP HOSPITAL.

Cripple Creek Youth Arrested for Putting Dynamite on Furnace.

Cripple Creek, Col., March 28.—Roy Bourquin, aged 17 years, was arrested here Wednesday charged with attempting to blow up the county hospital with dynamite. He placed several sticks of dynamite on the hospital furnace, but luckily it was discovered in time. Had it exploded heavy loss of life doubtless would have resulted.

Bourquin has a mania for explosions. A year ago he lost an eye and his right hand as the result of setting off dynamite.

Pennsylvania Company Offers $5,500 for Arrest and Conviction.

Philadelphia, March 28.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company Wednesday offered rewards aggregating $5,500 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved in the wrecking of its trains near Pittsburgh.

The derailment of the Chicago limited last week and attempted wrecking of the Keystone express Wednesday led to a conference of officials to discuss the matter. As a result General Manager Atterbury sent broadcast throughout Pennsylvania the offer of reward.

The ore, which was sent into Pueblo a sack at a time, was delivered to George Richardson.

O'BRIEN QUILTS THE THAW LUNACY BODY

DAVID M'CLURE, A WELL-KNOWN LAWYER, IN HIS PLACE.

NEW MAN MADE CHAIRMAN

First Formal Session Thursday Afternoon—Inquiry Will Be Pushed Rapidly—Jury Excused Until Monday.

New York, March 28.—After the jury which has been trying Harry K. Thaw for more than two months past was excused Wednesday until next Monday morning, and the members of the lunacy commission named Tuesday afternoon by Justice Fitzgerald to inquire into Thaw's present state of mind had been sworn in, there came the sudden announcement late in the afternoon that former Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, the chairman of the commission, had resigned.

In a letter to Justice Fitzgerald, Judge O'Brien stated that upon reflection he was forced, because of the condition of his health and professional engagements previously entered into, to decline to serve as a member of the commission. Justice Fitzgerald immediately made a new order appointing David M'Clure, a well-known attorney of this city and a member of former Police Commissioner McAdoo's advisory committee of citizens to fill the vacancy.

First Session Thursday.

Mr. M'Clure met the other members of the commission in the afternoon and was selected as chairman. Later he announced that the first session of the commission will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the courtroom where the trial has been in progress. The commission's inquiry in general will be an open one, although there will be executive sessions from time to time.

The announcement of Justice O'Brien's resignation came as a complete surprise. When the Thaw jury reported in court in the morning at ten o'clock Justice Fitzgerald was engaged in his chambers with the members of the commission whose appointment he announced Wednesday. These were former Justice O'Brien, former District Attorney Peter B. Olney and Dr. Leopold Putiloff.

Thaw and Family in Court.

Justice Fitzgerald administered the oath of office to the commissioners and talked with them concerning the case and their duties. In connection with the inquiry they were about to undertake. The interview lasted for more than an hour and then Justice Fitzgerald convened court and the three commissioners filed in and took their places near the clerk's desk.

Harry Thaw was brought into court and found all the members of his family awaiting him. He looked exceedingly well physically, and, smiling at greeting to his mother, his wife, his sisters and brothers.

Justice Fitzgerald, in discharging the jurors until next Monday, warned them to be careful not to discuss the case in any way or to read any newspaper accounts of what is taking place. It was said that in directing the jury to report next Monday Justice Fitzgerald did not wholly expect that the commission will be ready to render an opinion by that time. If the commission's inquiry is prolonged the jury will be called into court every few days in order that it may be kept intact for a resumption of the trial should Thaw be declared sane at the present time.

McClure in O'Brien's Place.

Following the proceedings in court, Justice Fitzgerald had another conference with the three commissioners originally selected, and when they left the criminal courts building at the luncheon hour it was announced that they would reassemble at three p. m. At that hour Mr. Olney and Dr. Putiloff put in their appearance. Mr. McClure arrived soon afterward and was ushered into Justice Fitzgerald's chambers. His presence was unexplained, however, for more than an hour.

Then came the announcement of Judge O'Brien's resignation and the appointment of Mr. McClure as his successor. Messrs. McClure, Olney and Putiloff conferred for some time, and finally announced that their first formal session would be held Thursday afternoon and would be open to the public. The commission hopes to get under way without any delay whatsoever, and will press the inquiry to the speediest possible conclusion.

The Religious East.

The fact is that the oriental races are fundamentally religious, and that the misapprehension of their lives is their religion, whereas in modern Europe people have succeeded in dividing their lives into religious and secular departments, says the London Post.
